

History Major Worksheet: Global Concentrations

Full Name: _____ Class: _____
 Student ID: _____ Area of Concentration: _____

HISTORY MAJOR REQUIREMENTS: 12 distinct History courses - including at least one 393 SEMINAR, at least one 395 SEMINAR, at least four courses INSIDE CONCENTRATION, and at least six courses OUTSIDE CONCENTRATION. No more than one First-Year seminar can be included as part of the program.

A. Undergraduate Seminars

TWO undergraduate seminars: History 393 and History 395. These seminars may be in any area and may double-count toward the required courses inside and outside of concentration, so long as the total number of distinct history courses still adds up to twelve.

Course #	Class Title	Quarter/Year
1. HISTORY 393	_____	_____
2. HISTORY 395	_____	_____

B. Inside Concentration

At least FOUR courses in global history: History 250-1, History 250-2 and two additional global history offerings (see department website for eligible courses).

While the Department offers 250-1 and -2 every year, the quarters in which they are offered are not fixed and may vary from year to year. Global concentrators should take these classes as soon as possible to avoid conflicts during senior year.

Course #	Class Title	Quarter/Year
1. HISTORY 250-1	_____	_____
2. HISTORY 250-2	_____	_____
3. _____	_____	_____
4. _____	_____	_____
5. _____	_____	_____
6. _____	_____	_____

C. Outside Concentration

At least SIX additional courses outside global history.

Option A: Two each in three geographic areas of concentration OR

Option B: Three each in two geographic areas of concentration.

Course #	Class Title	Quarter/Year
1. _____	_____	_____

2.	_____	_____	_____
3.	_____	_____	_____
4.	_____	_____	_____

6.	_____	_____	_____
7.	_____	_____	_____
8.	_____	_____	_____

D. Further Requirements

At least two of the twelve 200- and 300-level courses from Sections A, B, or C above must be in either Europe before 1800 OR Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, or Global (any period). 100-level classes may not be used to satisfy this requirement. History 319, U.S. Foreign Relations, may not be used to fulfill this requirement.

Course #	Class Title	Quarter/Year
1.	_____	_____
2.	_____	_____

NOTE: While any 393 or 395 seminar may count towards the four INSIDE CONCENTRATION courses (Section A) OR the six additional OUTSIDE CONCENTRATION courses (Section B), a student must take a total of at least 12 different history courses (titles) to fulfill the major requirements. With the exception of those classes listed below, all of the classes applied to Sections A, B, and C above must originate in the History Department.

NOTE: Up to two of the following courses can be used to satisfy the requirements of Section B and C, above:

(a) History courses taught in other departments or programs by regular faculty members of the History Department (e.g., Gender & Sexuality Studies 230-0 when taught by history faculty);

(b) African American Studies 212-1,-2*; Asian American Studies 214-0*, 216-0*, 304-0*; Classics 211-0, 212-0, 321-0; Economics 315-0 (dependent upon subject matter), 318-0, 323-1,-2, 324-0; Environmental Policy 309-0*, 340-0*(History 376-0); Gender & Sexuality Studies 324-0*; German 344-1,-2*, 349-0*; Global Health 309-0* (History 379-0); Latino/a Studies 218-0*; Legal Studies 305-0*, 318-1,-2*, 320-0*; Religious Studies 264-0, 265-0

*These courses are always cross-listed with a History course, usually of the same course number, e.g. History 212-1/AF_AM_ST 212-1. Combined classes may be taken for credit in one department only and may not be taken for repeat credit in the other department offering the course. It is recommended you enroll in the course on the History side to receive History credit.

NOTE: Only one Chicago Field Studies course can count towards the major/minor.

NOTE: WCAS does not permit double-counting between the History major and other "stand-alone" majors; double-counting is only allowed in the case of an adjunct major and then only as prescribed by that adjunct major. The History major itself has no double-counting provision. Generally, there is no double-counting between majors and minors; see the WCAS website for the list of exceptions. Other schools in the university (Medill, McCormick, SoC) have their own double-counting rules. Please review these rules as necessary.
